"For a long time I have had an idea for a book rattling around in my head that needed to come out. I knew how to start writing but I had no idea how to get to the end and actually get it published. A friend connected me with Gerry and from our first meeting I knew that I had found someone “who got me” and could help me to realize the dream. We spent three intense days taking a long hard look at me inside and out and at what I really want to do with my life! With Gerry's guidance, expertise, creativity and on-going inspiring coaching, I now have a plan, know what I need to do and better yet how I am going to get there!! Never have I been more certain about what I want to do and I am calmer than I have ever been before because I know all of this is right! Working with Gerry is amazing and I would highly recommend him to anyone looking to unleash their power within!" Jane Blaufus

"But more importantly thank you for three of the most intense days of my life taking a long hard look inside myself and at what I really want to do with my life! I love his high energy to generate interest, even the worst slug would have to come out of there with some inspired change. Gerry is truly an inspiration - a man born to speak and present. He can reach people on any level. His boot camps serve as a good kick to reassess your general life (all aspects).” Diane Heard

“Gerry goes way, way beyond mere "out of the box" thinking. He revitalizes you and your company/organization - makes you see things in an entirely new and empowering way. He invigorates you, motivates you, thrills you with new possibilities about yourself - helping you not only to finally understand and react, but to actually lead effectively in the new universe which is unfolding around us. When he is done with you, not only do you feel an integral part of that new world, you can now be in control of it.” August 5, 2009

“Gary Visca was my Business mentor for my Masters project at McMaster University (Masters in Engineering Entrepreneurship and Innovation Program.) He has helped me with the launch of my website (Design, functionality, usability) and provided with many great ideas for branding, advertising and attracting customers. I have had an opportunity to attend one of his seminars, which was an outstanding experience. While working with him on the project he has constantly provided me with constructive feedback on my work and direction of the project and made himself available for meetings and review. I learned many fundamental techniques from him that the business world today overlooks through his ‘kickstarters’ product - a creative and effective product that should be on everyone’s desks.” January 30, 2009
